

Q.1 What is the difference between assertive and aggressive communication?

⇒ Assertive communication stands up for the team member's rights and support without violating others, whereas aggressive communication violates the member's, as forceful or hostile tone and language.

Q.2 What are some examples of assertive communication?

⇒ Some examples are like to talk with respect way, listen the other people, using soft tone, using respective language, to say no without any interrupt.

Q.3 What are some examples of aggressive communication?

⇒ Some examples are like to interrupting, yelling, Blaming, using rude tone, insulting, making demands.